A Journey of Hope and Resilience

Through the eyes of a young girl named Willow, Maclean paints a vivid picture of the transformative power of hope. Willow lives in a world where winter seems endless, its barren landscape a symbol of despair. But deep within her, a flicker of hope remains, a longing for something more than the cold and darkness that surrounds her.

"When hope is gone, look for a window," Maclear writes. And indeed, it is through a small window that Willow first glimpses the signs of spring's arrival. A single bird chirping outside her window, a patch of green peeking through the snow - these small wonders reignite the flame of hope within her.
